May 2016 Edition

Looking Forward

By Al Loving, Group President

As I prepare to assume the role of our group's Past President, I want to say that it has been my pleasure to serve as the first elected President of the USAF Aircrew Life Support/Aircrew Flight Equipment Veterans and Retirees Group.

I want to thank the sitting members of the Board of Directors, Bob McElwain and Dave Chitwood, and the several committee members for their service and support to the group. I offer a special thank you to our past Vice President, Steve Wyatt, for his dedication and support to our "family". Steve you absolutely make a difference.

I've said this before and I'll say it again...I realize that the success of our "family" in promoting camaraderie between the uniformed, veteran and retired community would not be possible without the involvement of the many "family" members and especially our steadfast attendees to the reunions. I thank each of you and I look forward to the continued successes the group currently enjoys.

I can't say enough good things about the fantastic support we received from the Aircrew Flight Equipment (AFE) community and leadership at Nellis AFB during our 2015 reunion. Thanks to the Nellis leadership and AFE professionals...we look forward to the outstanding support again this year!

Finally, the Reunion Committee Chairperson, Bob McElwain, and the entire committee is hard at work putting the several functions and activities together for our annual gathering...you'll be pleased with the program. I'll see you there!

From The Field

*CMSgt Mike Lightner
Outgoing USAF AFE Career Field Manager
April 8, 2016*

To the Men and Women of Aircrew Flight Equipment...“Enhance aircrew performance and preserve human life.” - It's what we do!

Today my family, friends, and I will celebrate the end of my military career and the beginning of the next chapter in my life. Over the past three decades I have had the honor of doing many wonderful things; however, being your Career Field Manager is something I will forever be most proud of. Despite only having 80% of your authorized personnel and 35 to 40% of your required funding, you have continued to persevere and accomplish the mission. Your dedication, persistence, and sacrifice has kept (and will continue to keep) this country safe and your commitment to excellence has saved many lives all around the world. Lord knows there are still many challenges to overcome; however, I am confident our career field has the right leadership in place to help guide you through them all.

As you go forward in your career, I challenge you to continue to grow and develop not only yourself but those around you. Remember, we may not always be able to prepare the future for our Airmen but we can always prepare our Airmen for the future. We must never lose sight of the value of growing our people...even when budgets are tight and time is limited. Our people have always and will always be our country's greatest strategic and tactical advantage.....when we lose sight of that...we risk losing it all.

Thank you all for your service to our nation, your commitment to our career field, and of course, your support of me during my tenure as your Career Field Manager. I wish you and your family all the best.

We offer our congratulations to Chief Lightner on the occasion of his retirement and wish him only continued success in his next endeavor.

We also want to recognize the new USAF Aircrew Flight Equipment (AFE) Career Field Manager, CMSgt John McEnaney. Chief McEnaney came to the Pentagon from Ramstein AB, Germany, where he served as the USAF AFE Career Field Manager. Welcome, Chief! We hope to see you at reunion in the near future.

We offer hearty congratulations to each of the uniformed and civilian AFE professionals who have been selected for promotion since the last newsletter to include our newest active duty AFE SMSgt selects. They are MSgt's:

James Buckley, Jr.
Sondra K. Daigle
John De La Rosa
David E. Edwards
Charles L. Hall
Barry J. Hamilton
James A. Kent
Robert D. McClary
Bryan P. McCoy
Joseph W. Rust
Wayne A. Theunissen
Terence R. Zelek

Again, congratulations one and all!

To those who will soon or may have retired from the military or civil service since the last newsletter, please accept our sincere thanks for your dedicated service to this Great Nation and the United States Air Force.

Thanks to Chief Tommy Tompkins for bringing this 2015 video to our attention.

One had to be 17 years old to enlist in the military. While it is well known that people younger than 17 served in WWII (and other wars) we'll use 17 as a base. WW II ended in 1945; this is 2016. That means the YOUNGEST surviving WW II veteran is 88. Keep that in mind when you watch the video.

Quite a few do not look their age. Something I'm sure you'll enjoy.

Airmen Help Search for War Remains

The "Through Airmen's Eyes" series are stories that focus on individual Airmen, highlighting their Air Force story. Here are a couple of links to news articles that I think you will find interesting: www.airman.dodlive.mil/2016/01/digging-for-answers/

Survivor Benefit Plan Benefits

A new law will prevent military retirees from losing Survivor Benefit Plan benefits when their ex-spouse dies before they do, by allowing the benefit to be transferred to a current or future spouse. Here's the link to the full story: www.militarytimes.com/story/military/benefits/2015/12/09/new-law-allows-retirees-transfer-sbp-when-ex-spouse-dies/77038794/

The National Defense Authorization Act for fiscal 2015 gives retirees the option of now having Survivor Benefit Plan annuity payments go directly into a special-needs trust for a disabled child. This special-needs trust statute does not apply to disabled spouses.

"This new option is the result of an amendment to the public law covering SBP, and is a welcome change for parents of disabled dependent children," said Tammy Hern, the Air Force's SBP program manager.

Retirees who have SBP coverage for a disabled dependent child may now – or at any time -- have a special-needs trust created and elect to direct SBP annuity payments to the trust. This irrevocable decision may be made during the life of the retiree through a written statement that designates future SBP payments go into the special-needs trust. In situations where SBP payments are made to more than one dependent child, the special-needs trust will be treated as a dependent child for the purposes of determining the shares payable to each child.

To irrevocably add a special-needs trust to existing child SBP coverage, retirees must submit a written statement requesting the annuity be paid to a trust. The statement must include the name and tax identification number of the trust. Additionally, the retiree must submit a certified letter from an actively licensed attorney verifying that the trust is a special-needs trust created for the benefit of the disabled dependent child. Examples of both statements can be found at www.retirees.af.mil/sbp/.

"It is vital that people wanting to create a special-needs trust exercise due diligence and consult with an attorney well-versed in this specialized and complex area of law," said Hern.

The SBP statute requires that a special-needs trust for a dependent disabled child also meet federal statutory requirements, and once the trust is created, it is irrevocable.

If officials determine the special-needs trust is invalid or otherwise faulty, then SBP annuity payments will revert back to being made directly to the dependent child. If this occurs, the dependent child's entitlement to other benefits such as Supplemental Security Income and Medicaid may be affected.

A special needs trust election can be added to child SBP coverage even after the retiree dies.

"When the retiree dies, if SBP child coverage has been elected and the child is disabled, the dependent child's legal parent, grandparent or court-appointed legal guardian may irrevocably elect to have the SBP annuity payments made to a special-needs trust," said Hern.

For more information or help with completing special needs trust election statements, call 1-877-353-6807 to contact the SBP or the casualty assistance representative at the nearest Air Force base.

TRICARE Pharmacy Benefits

Several changes to the TRICARE pharmacy benefit took effect on February 1, 2016. First, copays for drugs filled at retail pharmacies and TRICARE Pharmacy Home Delivery increase slightly. Second, TRICARE Over-the-Counter (OTC) drug coverage becomes a full and permanent part of the TRICARE benefit, requiring that beneficiaries pay the usual generic copays. Contact TRICARE for questions.

2016 Reunion Theme

By 2016 Reunion Committee

For the last several years we have recognized various groups within our profession at the annual reunion. Last year we recognized our “educators” through “A Salute to Our Instructors” challenge. This year we will recognize the members of our career fields who supported the Vietnam conflict.

Therefore, our theme for reunion 2016 is “A Salute to the Vietnam Veteran”. The challenge is pretty simple. We respectfully ask our Vietnam veterans who can afford it (and anyone else who would like to support this) to please make a $20 contribution to help with the reunion expenses and be recognized for your contribution and service during the Vietnam conflict.

A recognition placard containing the names of our contributors will be prominently displayed at the reunion registration desk, at the general business meeting, in the reunion hospitality suite, and at the farewell banquet.

We say “Thank You!” in advance for your support of the reunion and in recognizing our Vietnam conflict veterans. This includes all civilian and military Personal Equipment, Aircrew Life Support, Survival Equipment, and Aircrew Flight Equipment veterans who were assigned to a Pacific Air Forces (PACAF) installation, unit, or in any of the countries in Southeast Asia (SEA) and the Strategic Air Command’s Anderson AFB, Guam, that supported the SEA theater of operations during this conflict.

To ensure your name is included on the recognition placard, please make your check or money order payable to Bob McElwain and mail to Bob by August 15, 2016. His mailing address is:

Victorville, CA 92392

Congress Passes Law Creating ID Card for Veterans

In July 2015, the Veterans Identification Card Act was signed into law creating a government issued Veterans ID card, something many veterans have been requesting for years.

The military only issues ID cards for current service members, retirees, and certain veterans with a 100% disability rating. The only option many veterans have to prove their service is a VA ID card used for health care (if eligible), or a state-issued driver's license with a Veterans Designation (but not all states currently offer this).

Many veterans who were not eligible for the above ID cards had a difficult time proving their military service, and often carried a DD Form 214, which contains personal information that should be kept secure (such as the veteran's SSN, birthday, etc.).

The new ID cards will only be valid for proving military service. The new cards cannot be used for benefits through the VA, to access military installations, or to receive other military or veteran's benefits. However, those who are currently eligible for benefits through the military or VA will continue to have them through their current methods.

Update – May 2016: The VA has announced they are still working on the implementation plan for issuing these Veterans ID cards. The VA has the option for charging veterans to help cover the administrative costs of issuing the ID cards. At the time of this update, the VA has mentioned the cards may not be available for issue until sometime in 2017. We will be sure to update this article again when we have concrete information regarding the release date and any associated costs.

TRANSPORTATION TO/FROM THE AIRPORT-LAS VEGAS SHUTTLES: Bell and Showtime are just a few of the companies that offer shuttle buses between the airport and the various Strip and downtown hotels. These buses usually cost around $7 per person to Strip hotels and under $10 per person to downtown hotels which makes them a lot cheaper than taxis. You can take care of your return trip to the airport by buying a round-trip shuttle bus ticket which offers some savings. They typically cost around $13 for Strip hotels and $17 for downtown hotels.

Whichever shuttle service you use, be sure to ask the driver for a telephone number to call for a pick-up when you have to return to the airport. When you are ready to call for a pick-up, you can often just pick up a hotel house phone and ask them to connect you to the shuttle bus company. Be sure to call at least two hours before the time you want to arrive at the airport. Some shuttle bus companies want you to call 24 hours ahead of time. Ask your driver how far ahead you should call for a pick-up. What you get in savings you give up in time. These buses will typically wait for the bus to fill before leaving which means it can take an up to an hour to get to your hotel. If you're more interested in saving time than saving money, take a taxi. Taxi rides generally average $15 to Strip hotels and $23 downtown (not including the tip).

Bell Trans (Open 24 hours)
